Description :

Prsentation de l'diteur Burning the blunt at both ends is a way of life for Byron Bella, a twenty-something high-grade pot dealer, music lover, and closet-author living in New York City, but the death of his little brother sparks a quest of self-discovery leading Byron to reevaluate who he is, who his friends are, and finally decide if he is brave enough to put down the blunt and pick up a pen before his illicit lifestyle catches up with him for good. Burn Me Up Fast is an introspective, thought-provoking novel, taking place in a fast-paced world filled with drugs and parties, fear and guns, life lessons and ultimately love. brave enough to put down the blunt and pick up a pen before his illicit lifestyle catches up with him for good. Burn Me Up Fast is an introspective, thought-provoking novel, taking place in a fast-paced world filled with drugs and parties, fear and guns, life lessons and ultimately love. Biographie de l'auteur BT Rockwell is an author, producer, and audio engineer who spent years with the legendary Wu Tang Clan, chiefly with one of its star MCs, Raekwon the Chef. He helped produce, record, mix, and arrange Raekwon's instant classic Only Built 4 Cuban Linx Pt. II which iTunes and TIME magazine both hailed as the best hip hop album of 2009. While writing from the road, his music studio in Brooklyn, and his apartment in downtown Manhattan, Rockwell was able to create an authentic and commercially relatable glimpse of one intelligent hustler's journey in today's big (rotten) apple.
