Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurWhen Jane Austen dies at the age of just 41, Anne, governess to her brother, Edward Austen, is devastated and begins to suspect that someone might have wanted her out of the way. Now, 20 years on, she hopes that medical science might have progressed sufficiently to assess the one piece of evidence she has - a tainted lock of Jane's hair. Natural causes or murder? Even 20 years down the line, Anne is determined to get to the bottom of the mysterious death of the acclaimed Miss Austen. A compelling speculative fictional account of the circumstances surrounding Jane Austen's mysterious death from established crime writer Lindsay Ashford, based on her own and relatives correspondence.Revue de presse Dramatised on Radio 4 February 2014 'Ashford borrows the 'mischievous spirit' of Austen herself in this thoroughly entertaining mingling of fact and fiction.' - Anna Scott, Guardian 'Austen herself who leaps from the pages with warmth and humour' New Welsh 'unsettling and powerful... a fascinating journey into the

Austen family dynamics... What unfolds is a gripping, page turning, toxic sugar plum unlike any other Austenesque novel I have ever read. Be brave. Be beguiled. Be uncertain. I dare you.' - Laurel Ann Nattress, Austenprose.com 'I actually couldn't put it down... beautifully written and wholly believable...' - Jane Odiwe, janeaustensequels.blogspot.com 'an intriguing and compelling variation on the theory of the death of Jane Austen.' -- - crimeficreader (//itsacrimeuk.wordpress.com) Presentation de l'diteur
